Fusionopolis One at one-north

The gleaming towers of Fusionopolis One are synonymous with one-north, a 200-hectare business park that supports Singapore's ambition to become a powerhouse in the global knowledge economy.

Designed by Kishio Kurokawa Architect & Associates, the three towers of Fusionopolis One reflect an integration of office, residential and retail spaces.

Renowned enterprises like Grab, Lucasfilm, P&G, and Razer have set up their operations at one-north.

Want to meet and interact with industry players and start-ups in media, biomedical science and info-comm technology? Simply head to any of one-north's eight precincts, where vibrant work-live-play-learn environments welcome innovative minds to congregate, collaborate, and create.
